

Responsible investment briefing

The value of integrating environmental, social and governance (ESG) issues into an investment process

➤ A BNY MELLON COMPANYSM

NEWTON
The Power of Ideas

We will be holding a responsible investment briefing in our London offices on Thursday 18th March and we would be delighted if you were able to join us.

At Newton, we have a well-established approach to responsible investment, and considerations about environmental, social and governance (ESG) matters are integral to our investment process. Several of our themes, including earth matters, more government and developing economies, encompass such considerations and our responsible investment team works closely with our research analysts to ensure that ESG matters are incorporated appropriately in our global thematic approach.

At our briefing, a range of speakers will discuss a number of responsible investment and ESG-related topics.

Agenda

09:00	Registration, tea, coffee, pastries
09:30	Welcome and introduction to Newton's investment process Helena Morrissey , Chief executive officer, Newton
09:45	How companies add shareholder value through effective management of ESG matters Philippa Foster Back (OBE), Director, Institute of Business Ethics
10:15	Newton's more government investment theme is central to responsible investment Nick Clay , Investment manager - Multi asset funds, Newton Amanda Young , SRI officer, Newton Laura Aarnio , Responsible investment analyst, Newton Ian Burger , Corporate governance officer, Newton
10:55	Tea, coffee and biscuits
11:30	The E and S in ESG - deforestation and labour issues Amanda Young , SRI officer, Newton
11:50	The G in ESG - An interview with a Chairman Sir Richard Laphorne , Chairman, Cable and Wireless Plc. Roger Wilkinson , Leader - global research and telecoms analyst, Newton Ian Burger , Corporate governance officer, Newton
12:30	Buffet lunch

RSVP: Johanna Thomas at johanna_thomas@newton.co.uk or on 020 7163 2751.

Please indicate whether you would like to join us for the buffet lunch or attend only the briefing.

Our London offices are located at 160 Queen Victoria Street, London, EC4V 4LA.